

Safer & Cleaner Air Limited - Privacy Policy - Version 1.0 - 1/8/2021

Privacy Policy

Policy Statement

Please read this Privacy Policy carefully as it describes Safer & Cleaner Air's collection, use, disclosure, retention and protection of your personal information. This Policy applies to any website, application or service which references this Privacy Policy.

1. About this Policy

Safer & Cleaner Air's takes the privacy of its customers and our customers' customers very seriously and is committed to protecting personal information. This Privacy Policy sets out the way in which any personal information you may provide to us (or provided to us by a company that utilises our services) is used and kept secure by Safer & Cleaner Air. It applies whenever we collect your personal data (including when you use our website), so please read it carefully. This policy does not apply to our employees.

This policy does not form part of any Safer & Cleaner Air Employee's contract of employment and may be amended at any time.

2. Definitions

Information

Means information or data (including critical business information) which is stored electronically, on a computer or authorised device (such as mobile phones), or in paper-based filing systems / locations.

Personal Data

Means any data relating to an identified or identifiable living individual who can be identified from that data (or from that data and other information in our possession). Personal data can be factual (for example, a name, address, date of birth, identification number, location data), or it can be an opinion about that person, their actions and behaviour.

Data Protection Legislation

Means the General Data Protection Regulations (EU) 2016/679 ("GDPR"), unless and until GDPR is no longer directly applicable in the UK, the GDPR and any national implementing laws, regulations and secondary legislation, as amended or updated from time to time, in the UK and then any successor legislation to the GDPR or the Data Protection Act 1998.

Data Subjects

Means all the identified or identifiable living individual to whom the personal data relates. A data subject need not be a UK national or resident. All data subjects have legal rights in relation to their personal information.

Data Subject Rights

Means the Data Subjects rights to be informed of the data being held about them, have access to the data (known as a Subject Access Request), ability to be able to rectify the data, to be forgotten – have that data erased, to restrict processing of the data (the data can be stored but not processed), to be able to have the data transfer easily between IT environments (portability), to be able to object to certain processing aspects (such as marketing), as well as rights relating to automated decision making and profiling.

Processing

Means any activity that involves the use of the data. It includes collection, recording, structuring or storage of the data, or carrying out any operation or set of operations on the data including organising, amending, retrieving, using, disclosing, erasing or destroying it. Processing also includes transferring Personal Data to third parties.

Cookies

A cookie is a small piece of data that a website asks your browser to store on your computer or mobile device. The cookie allows the website to “remember” your actions or preferences over time. Most Internet browsers support cookies; however, users can set their browsers to decline certain types of cookies or specific cookies. Further, users can delete cookies at any time.

The respective procedure can be found in the operating instructions of your respective browser. If you refuse the use of cookies, however, this may lead to restrictions in the use of some areas of our websites.

Social Media Plugins

Our website uses so-called “social plugins”. Currently these are the plugins of the services Twitter, Google + and LinkedIn. We ourselves do not collect personal data by means of social plugins or their use. Only when you actively click on one of the social plugins, can data be transmitted to the service provider and stored there.

7. Sharing your information

Who we share your data with

To provide our services to you or to otherwise fulfil contractual arrangements that we have with you, we may need to appoint other organisations to carry out some of the data processing activities on our behalf.

These may include for example, sub-contractors, despatch organisations, companies who assist us with our marketing, other suppliers. They only use the information to provide their services to us.

We only give them the information that they need. We always keep control of your data and our suppliers must act in accordance with our instructions.

In some circumstances, we may also have to disclose your personal information by law, because a court or the police or other law enforcement agency has requested it.

Criteria for sharing your data

We only share your data with third parties if:

- They have a need to know the information for the purposes of providing the contracted services;
- Sharing your Personal Data complies with this Privacy Policy and, if required, the Data Subject’s consent has been obtained;
- The third party has agreed to comply with the required data security standards, policies and procedures and put adequate security measures in place;
- The transfer complies with any applicable cross border transfer restrictions; and
- Where an appropriate written contract or agreement that contains data protection clauses has been agreed.

8. Record keeping

How we record the data we hold

We are required to keep full and accurate records of all our Data Processing activities.

9. Your choices, Obligations and Rights

How long we keep your data for

We only hold your personal information for as long as is necessary to provide services to you unless there is a requirement to hold that information for a longer period – for example where we are subject to a statutory obligation to keep hold of your information e.g. financial records. To be able to fulfil our contractual and service obligations with our customers we retain your information for the duration of a contract plus one year, in case you should have any queries. If there is a possibility that you may have a legal claim against us or you have made a complaint against us, then we will hold your information for the duration of any statutory limitation period associated with the claim.

Where you opt in to receive Marketing from us, we will retain this information for three years, before needing to ask you to re-subscribe. All our Marketing emails have an unsubscribe option clearly visible and you can also unsubscribe at any time by emailing us info@safercleanerair.org

Security of your data

Safer & Cleaner Air are committed to ensuring that your information is secure. To prevent unauthorised access or disclosure we have put in place robust physical, electronic and managerial procedures to safeguard and secure the information we collect, including for example

If at any point you become aware of a security incident or you have reason to suspect that your data may have been compromised (e.g. you receive a suspicious communication about you), please forward the communication to us or report the incident by email to info@safercleanerair.org

If you have been the victim of a fraudulent transaction (or that you have reason to suspect that you may have done) whether or not this relates to your dealings with Safer & Cleaner Air you should always contact the police and/or your bank in the first instance to ensure your own finances are secure.

More about your information - your rights

You may request a correction or update your personal information at any time by emailing info@safercleanerair.org

Please include your name, address and email address when you contact us as this helps us to ensure that we accept amendments only from the correct person and can contact you to verify your identity should this be necessary. We encourage you to promptly update your personal information if it changes and we will action any such requests as quickly as we reasonably can.

We will securely retain your information for as long as is reasonably necessary and in accordance with law applicable at the time. If you wish to submit a request that your data be deleted, please email us using info@safercleanerair.org

You have the right to receive a copy of the personal information that we hold about you. Please email us using info@safercleanerair.org if you wish to exercise this right.

If you receive Marketing information from us, you can of course change your mind and unsubscribe by contacting us at any point using info@safercleanerair.org

10. Complaints to the Regulator

Complaints to the Regulator

If you do not think that we have processed your data in accordance with this notice, please contact us by email using info@safercleanerair.org

If you are not satisfied with our response, you can refer the matter to the Information Commissioner's Office. Information about how to do this is available on their website at www.ico.org.uk

11. Changes to this Policy

Notification of Changes

Safer & Cleaner Air reserve the right to change this policy at any time. Where appropriate, Safer & Cleaner Air will notify Data Subjects of those changes in writing (letter or email). An up-to-date copy of this Policy will always be held on our website.

Each revised copy will have a version number and date on it. You can also request an up-to-date version by emailing us using info@safercleanerair.org
